NATIONAL CENTER FOR ARTS RESEARCH

Streamlined Cultural Data Profile (CDP) – for Organizations with Expenses Under $50,000

The Cultural Data Profile (CDP) is an online survey that collects financial and programmatic data from nonprofit arts, culture, and humanities organizations – large and small, and across all disciplines - to be used for grant reporting and internal analysis.

This document is a resource to help you prepare to fill out the CDP. It includes:

- All of the line items and questions you will find in the CDP
- An appendix with definitions and instructions for each line item
- Information about required fields and the built in error check (also in the appendix)

There are three different versions of the CDP for audited organizations, un-audited organizations, and organizations with annual expenses under $50,000. This document is specifically for organizations with annual expenses under $50,000.

You can login to complete the CDP at da.culturaldata.org. There you will also find additional instructions and resources to help you get started. Our Support Center is also available to assist you with the CDP at 877-707-DATA (877-707-3282) or help@culturaldata.org.

Local Community

Choose one community type, based on where the majority of your participants live. If you do not have data available, this can be based on estimates or your perceptions of your audience.

Which term best describes the local community you serve?

Urban	Urban is defined as Located within an urbanized area or cluster with at least 10,000 people. Any area included in the title of a Core Based Statistical Area (CBSA) as designated by the census is considered Urban. For example, Philadelphia is included in the name of the Philadelphia-Camden-Wilmington CBSA.
Suburban	Suburban is defined as Areas adjacent to an urban core with a high degree of social and economic integration with the core (often characterized by commuting ties). The census provides a list of Core Based Statistical Areas (CBSAs); generally, any location within a CBSA that is outside of the city(s) included in the name of the CBSA is considered Suburban.
Rural	Rural is defined as Any area that is not considered Urban or Suburban based upon the definitions above.
